EXPERIENCE

The Mexico City Historical Center is a place where time seems to have frozen over; Its cobblestone streets, surrounded by colonial buildings and ancestral temples, guard stories that are intertwined with legends filled with mystery. The colorful flavors of local gastronomy inspire deep and unparalleled sensory exploration. Its museums, carefully curated collections that reflect the city's refreshing artistic atmosphere, are invitations to explore the human essence itself.

For those looking for adventure and eager to discover the many hidden charms of the city, Colima 71 presents its Historic Downtown Experience: Legends and Flavors, an exclusive experience that combines culture, history, and culinary mastery in a tour that promises and delivers.

Where history lives on

The Mexico City Historical Center is much more than a few squares or a pin on the map; It is the soul of the city. Each building, each corner, whispers stories of ancient, colonial and modern Mexico. Through this select experience, our hotel in Roma Mexico City offers intimate access to this emblematic space, revealing legends that have survived the passage of time.

From pre-Hispanic tales of forbidden love to mystic narratives of revolution, this cultural tour allows visitors to dive into the past while walking through streets full of life. Always accompanied by an expert guide, you and your party will have the opportunity to learn fascinating stories that give new meaning to every step in the heart of the city.

Starting with a bicycle tour along Paseo de la Reforma, to eventually reach the historic center and admire the monumental buildings and astonishing architectural feats such as the Metropolitan Cathedral, the Palacio de Bellas Artes, and many more iconic monuments, offering an impressive setting for an unforgettable day.

Meet Diego Rivera: the prodigal son

As part of the Historic Downtown Experience: Legends and Flavors, our hotel in Roma Mexico City extends an invitation to discover the iconic Diego Rivera Mural Museum, located in the emblematic Alameda Central.

This cultural space houses one of the most representative works of Mexican muralism: Dream of a Sunday afternoon in Alameda Central. This masterpiece, rescued after the 1985 earthquake, is a window into the history and society of Mexico, where Rivera, the prodigal son of Mexican art, portrays key figures and scenes that tell the cultural evolution of the country.

From La Catrina, through José Guadalupe Posada, Frida Kahlo herself and countless personalities with their own stories closely linked to the history of Mexico, visiting the mural is a must that fuses art, memory and undeniable legacy in an intimate and rich environment.

An experience full of flavor

Of course, this experience would not be complete without reveling in the authentic flavors that define local cuisine. The wide menus of the Historic Center are a journey through our roots and beyond, where each dish tells its own story. With Colima 71, you can enjoy an exquisite selection of bites that celebrate the best of Mexican cuisine.

From traditional hot chocolate at El Cardenal, a gastronomic gem located in an iconic mansion from the early 20th century, to innovative contemporary creations, each flavor is a reflection of the city's cultural richness. The gastronomic experience is brought to a bright end via carefully selected pairings, with a mezcal tasting at the legendary Cantina La Opera. A celebration for the palate, where culinary art merges with tradition and contemporary charm.

Discover our Historic Downtown Experience: Legends and Flavors and let yourself be carried away on a journey where each step tells a story and each flavor is a celebration.
