PRIVATE TOUR

Reforma by bicycle, the Ballet Folklórico and Chapultepec Castle.

On Sundays, Paseo de la Reforma closes to cars. We ride it by bicycle to the Historic Centre. At the Palacio de Bellas Artes we watch the Ballet Folklórico de Amalia Hernández, which takes dances researched across the states of Mexico to the stage.

Breakfast is at Café de Tacuba, an early twentieth-century café with paintings, mosaics and stained glass.

The day ends in Chapultepec Forest and at the castle that looks over the city from the hilltop. Maximilian and Carlota lived there. Today it is the National History Museum.
